Our Web Designing Approach As per fact that web designing is a process of conceptualization, planning, modeling and execution of electronic media content delivery via Internet in the form of Markup language suitable for interpretation by Web browser and display as Graphical user interface (GUI). Designing a website is not just about giving a good look and feel to the website visitors, its about the art and method of creating an effective online presence that best represents the image and identity of the business. An effective web presence is about the look, feel and graphical style integrated with desired functionality. It is also about making your website a full-fledged online business arm totally integrated with your offline business setup. Its not enough just to attract visitors to your site and that is why we keep talking about effective design which is about turning these visitors into regular users, clients and customers. There are many aspects (design concerns) in this process, and due to the rapid development of the Internet, new aspects may emerge. For typical commercial Web sites, the basic aspects of design are:

- Content: The substances and information on the site should be relevant to the website and should target the public around the business needs that the website is concerned with.
- Usability: The site should be very user-friendly, with the interface and navigation being simple and reliable.
- Appearance: The graphics and text should be consistent and include a single style that flows throughout. The style should be professional, appealing and relevant.
- Visibility: The site must also be easy to find via most, if not all, major search engines and advertisement media.
